Welcoming the Eleventh Bishop of Vermont and Her Family

Resolved, that this 187th Diocesan Convention of The Episcopal Church in Vermont, extend its warmest welcome and heartfelt thanks to our new bishop, the Right Reverend Shannon MacVean-Brown, her husband Philip MacVean and daughters Annaliese MacVean-Brown and Indira Samuels, for agreeing to uproot their own lives to join us in our ministry in Vermont.

The Convention gives thanks also to the Reverend Canon Ronald Spann, for his uplifting consecration sermon, and for—along with her mother Jacqueline—helping to raise a spiritual leader so well-matched to our own “holy scrappiness.”

We look forward to many years of shared ministry in this “brave little State of Vermont.”
